GETTING WARM AT FRANKFORT.

Charges of Bribery Against Dr.
Hunter and Congressman Wilson.

DISCUSSION ENDS IN A FIGHT.

Senator Daniel Voorhees, of Indiana, Dies at Washington.

THE OUTLOOK AT NEW ORLEANS.

Frankfort, April 10.—There is intense excitement in the city today because of the report that two indictments will be submitted to the Franklin county grand jury, charging Dr. W. G. Hunter and ex-Congressman John H. Wilson with conspiring to bribe and conspiring to detain by unlawful means.

These charges are made by Capt. Noel Gaines, who claims that large sums of money were offered him to secure his vote or absence from the assembly.

Mr. Wilson was seen in his room at the Capital Hotel. In the presence of Judge French and another gentleman he made the following countercharge:

"I may have been at Capt. Gaines' house, though I am not sure. I have called upon several persons in South Frankfort recently. There is nothing in the charge. On the contrary, Capt. Gaines, I am told has been hanging around Hunter's headquarters, trying to extort $15,000 or $16,000 from Dr. Hunter, and you may say also that when Dr. Hunter refused to walk into his trap he demanded $1,000, and said that if it was not paid by 9 o'clock this morning he would go before the grand jury and have Dr. Hunter and me indicted. It is a conspiracy and there is nothing in the charges. I have no objection to your publishing Capt. Gaines' statement, but don't say that formal papers have been drawn up to be submitted to the grand jury to be considered by them as indictments, for that is not true. It is all a conspiracy to defeat Hunter."

DENY THE CHARGES.

Hunter and Wilson Both Make Denials.

Frankfort, April 10.—It is claimed here that the indictments against Dr. Hunter and J. H. Wilson have been presented to the grand jury and that they will be returned this afternoon. Hunter claims that the charges are malicious and that it is a scheme to defeat him.

TODAY'S BALLOT.

Hunter and Bradley Indulge in a Knockdown.

Frankfort, April 10.—Roll call showed no quorum. The first formal ballot gave Hunter 57 votes. The Democrats refusing to vote as usual. After some delay the Hunter people forced a second ballot but with the same result.

The assembly then adjourned. Before roll call there was the greatest excitement. All kinds of rumors were rife. As a result of a heated argument, Tom Morrow, a Bradleyite, and Peter Sanders, a staunch supporter of Dr. Hunter, became involved in a difficulty. Sanders struck Morrow with a pair of knuckles inflicting considerable damage. Friends interfered and put an end to the altercation. Sanders was arrested shortly afterwards.

SENATOR DANIEL VOORHEES
Dies After a Lingering Illness.

Washington, April 10.—Senator Daniel Voorhees, the "The Sycamore of the Wabash" died in this city early this morning. Senator Voorhees has been a conspicuous figure in politics for the past thirty years and at the time of his death was a Senator from Indiana. His home was at Terre Haute.

THE SENATE RESOLUTION.
Secretary Sherman Will Probably Put it Away in a Pigeon Hole.

Washington, April 10.—The Senate resolution protesting against summary proceedings by the Spanish officials in Cuba against the captive insurgent leader Rivera, has reached the state department through the White House. Secretary Sherman, regarding it as merely declaratory of the sense of the senate and offered in an advisory rather than a mandatory spirit, has filed it away and is not likely to carry out its suggestions and to lodge a protest with the Spanish government, particularly in view of the information he has received that Rivera is not to be shot.

COTTON YIELD REDUCED.

Mississippi Floods Will Cut Off
1,500,000 Bales.

Memphis, April 10.—Cotton is the measure of values in the South, and when it is stated on the opinion of an expert that the territory along the Mississippi river now under water that will be inundated produces annually 1,500,000 bales of cotton of the highest grade, one can estimate the probable loss.

The crop of 1897 will be cut this number of bales if the waters do not get out of the country in time to make the crop.

A bale is worth $10 in New York. The whole of the Mississippi Delta, from a point in Tunica county, the extreme northern one, to the mouth of the Yazoo river, just above Vicksburg, is a vast inland sea. Ten counties in Arkansas are for the most part inundated. In Mississippi nine counties are wholly under water. If the flood should not leave by May 10 planters will be put in dire straits and labor will be unable to provide for its own. Debts can not be paid and great financial trouble will follow. The sugar plantations must also suffer.

Still Rising.

New Orleans, April 10.—The outlook here is anything but cheerful. The river is still rising rapidly and the outcome is a problem. Hope has given away to despair, seemingly, and the end is not yet.

DISSOLUTION OF CONCERT.

It is Anticipated in Greece—The Russian Premier.

Athens, April 10.—The royal yacht, Sphakteria, has sailed for Volo with the chief of the Red Cross Society.

A squadron of ironclads has left Skiothos for Orco and Eurohon. The Italian sailors were able to save the cathedral at Candia from the fire which broke out Tuesday, and which destroyed the residence of the bishop. It is estimated the damage from the conflagration will reach $30,000.

The opinion of the Greek newspapers is virtually unanimous as to the recent declaration of the Powers. It is that the European concert, after a conspicuous failure as to Crete, is gradually tending to dissolution, and will be obliged to content itself with a mere admonition.

There is an evident disinclination on the part of some of the Powers to carry out any program of coercion, and a weakening of purpose in the European federation, which is showing signs of decrepitude. The similarity of language between the declaration and the recent warning of the "Journal de St. Petersburg" has been noticed here, and this latest step of the Powers is attributed to the Russian initiative.

Count Muraviev, the Russian Foreign Minister, has already become the bete noir of the Greeks. His uniformly hostile attitude has produced great indignation. Well informed persons here believe Count Muraviev, who inherits the traditions of an autocratic family, is resolved to play a masterful role in European politics, and to leave an impression upon the history of his time.

One of the opposition journals professes to know that a proposal has been communicated to Greece through one of its representatives abroad that if Greece will submit to the powers in the Cretan affair she will receive as a recompense the territory included within the frontier lines traced by the Berlin conference of 1881, together with a portion of Macedonia, including Salonica.

Opposed by Two of the Powers.
Paris, April 10.—A dispatch from Constantinople to the "Times" says the proposal to leave the choice of a Governor of Crete to the proposed Cretan Assembly has been accepted by four of the powers, but it is added, Germany and Austria still oppose the proposition.

Uproar in the Italian Chamber.
Rome, April 10.—Considerable uproar attended the interpellation of the government by Sig. Imbriani, the Social leader, in the Chamber of Deputies today, who referred to the "odious policy of leading free Italy to commit inconceivable acts of violence against Greece and to trample upon the laws of nations."

Continuing, Sig. Imbriani asserted that Italy was playing the role of a vassal to the Driband, and he eulogized the conduct of Greece. In so doing the Socialist Deputy vigorously attacked the acts of Italy and the concert of the Powers, for which he was frequently called to order by the President of the Chamber and was loudly cheered by his fellow orators.

The Italian Senate today approved a reply to the speech from the throne, expressing the hopes that the government would succeed in maintaining its present accord with the other powers, and would insure peace by rendering justice to the peoples of Greece and Crete.

TURNED OUT THE LIGHTS.

The Burglars Then Went Through the Carney House.

STOLE CONSIDERABLE CLOTHING.

Wes Brown Had Out His Blood-hounds, But They Couldn't Find the Trail.

NO CUE WAS LEFT.

Burglars made a big haul at Mrs. Welsh's boarding house, the old Carney place, at Broadway and the railroad intersection, sometime early this morning.

The thieves forced up an east side window near the rear of the house and placed a barrel stove under it to keep it up. They then found the button a d turned out the electric lights all over the house and proceeded to business.

Judging from the condition in which things were found when the boarders awoke this morning, they let no room escape, but turned things topsy-turvy in each.

They entered the room occupied by C. F. Underwood, a fireman on the yard engine, and stole a 21-jewel Elgin watch, one black overcoat, two suits of dark clothes, one hat and a pair of shoes almost new.

From Calvin Ewisher, a brakeman, one black stiff hat, a black coat and vest, a brown suit of clothes, an Old Fellow pin which was on the vest, and a traveling card. The marauders almost completely divested these two men of all the clothing they had.

The burglary was not discovered until the cook arrived, but several since remember hearing a suspicious noise about 2 o'clock.

Mr. Wes Brown, the railroad man who has two blood-hounds, took them on the trail of the burglars, but the dogs couldn't find it. Quite a crowd was attracted by Brown and his dogs up to about 8 o'clock, when the attempt was abandoned.

Tom Anderson, colored, was arrested before noon on suspicion of being the burglar, and was locked up. It was reported to the police that he shipped a big bundle supposed to contain the stolen goods, to Cairo, on the Fowler this morning. Marshal Collins telegraphed to the Cairo authorities to seize any bundle that might be found.

MAYFIELD DESPERADOES

Two Bad Darkeys Before Judge
Sanders Today.

One Gets a Big Fine—The Other
Case Was Continued.

Bob Blank, of Mayfield, is a darkey of much volatility. Judge Sanders told him this morning that he would sooner or later talk himself into the penitentiary. Blank and John Henry Carmen stole a ride on a "blind baggage" yesterday and were arrested in the Illinois Central yards by one of the railroad policemen. A pistol was taken away from Blank, and when the city hall was reached Lockup Keeper Keller searched Carmen and found a pistol on him, also. A tramp doctor named Robt. Belden was arrested at the same time but released when the city hall was reached.

The cases against the two darkeys were called this morning and Carmen was fined $50 and costs and sentenced to twenty days in jail. Blank claimed he was only bringing the pistol to Paducah to have it repaired. His case was left open.

Judge Sanders told Blank that another warrant would be issued against him for grand larceny on an old charge. Three years ago Officer Cal Smith had the warrant in his pocket on the night he was assassinated, and it was so saturated with blood that it had to be destroyed.

"I never stole nulla at no time, judge," remonstrated Blank.

"Now, look here, you don't mean to tell me that you never stole anything in your life," tentatively suggested the judge.

"Nuffin mo'n a wata'million sho," was the reply, which evoked great laughter from the spectators.

The case against Charles Wade, alias "Snake," charged with cutting his wife, was today submitted to the grand jury by Judge Sanders.

THE NEW TARIFF BILL.

It May Be Two Weeks Before It Is Presented to the Senate.

Washington, April 10.—The Republican senators who are acting as a sub-committee of the senate committee on finance in the preparation of the tariff bill are inclined in their estimates now to postpone the date of its presentation to the senate a little beyond the limit originally fixed by them. They express the opinion that it may be two weeks from the present time before it will be in shape to be reported. Some of them postpone the time until two weeks from next Monday. The committee is making very satisfactory progress with the bill and many of the schedules have received final attention, among them being chemicals and cottons. None of the more puzzling questions, however, has been disposed of. The committee has deemed it wisest to leave the rates on wool, sugar, hides, coal, lead ore, and all other important subjects until the simpler matters can be determined.

ARGUMENTS BEING HEARD.

Right of the President to Make Removals Without Cause
To Be Passed On.

Washington, April 10.—The Supreme Court today listened to arguments in the case of Lewis E. Parsons, Jr., against the United States, which involves the question of the right of the President to remove an officer without cause before he has served his term. Parsons was United States District Attorney for the northern and middle districts of Alabama, and was removed by President Harrison and was removed by President Cleveland in May, 1893, after he had served about three years. Parsons declined to surrender his papers and afterward applied to the court of claims for the fees for the remainder of his term. That court overruled his contention that the President had no power to remove him except for cause, and the case was appealed.

SNOW AT INDIANAPOLIS.

Telegraph and Telephone Wires
Prostrated by the Storm.

Indianapolis, April 10.—The heavy rain and snow storm which prevailed in this vicinity from 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon until 9 o'clock today, did great damage to the telegraph and telephone facilities of this city. It was not the wind that caused the damage, but the heavy water-laden snow. It accumulated on the poles until either the wires broke or the poles toppled over under the weight. Up to 7 o'clock this morning it had been reported that 260 telephone wires were down.

THE BODY FOUND

That of Gen. Fullerton, Lost in Youghiogeny Wreck.

Wheeling, W. Va., April 10.—The body of Gen. Joseph C. Fullerton, of St. Louis, who was killed in a railway accident on the Baltimore and Ohio road near Oakland, Md., some weeks ago, was found this morning in the Youghiogeny river. The body will be sent to Chillicothe for burial.

Work for Hundreds.

Belleair, O., April 10.—At Dillonvale and Long Run, just east of here, on the Wheeling and Lake Erie Railroad, the two largest coal mines were placed in operation today. Over 800 men given work. These mines have not been running in full for a year.

Cairo's Streets Under Water.

Cairo, Ill., April 10.—The streets of Cairo are flooded. The heavy rains have raised the seep water until it filled the gutters, and the down-town business streets, then overflowed the sidewalks, and finally covered the floors of several business houses and is still rising.

GUN CLUB.

Will Meet in a Short Time For Reorganization.

A Live Bird Match is Now Being Arranged—Traps All Found.

There is to be a called meeting of the Paducah Gun Club in a short time for the purpose of reorganization. It is also likely that a change of parks or shooting grounds will be made, owing to the "occasional dampness" of Riverside Park. All the club's electric traps, which were washed away by the flood, have been recovered, and are not greatly damaged. A live bird shoot is being arranged for the first part of May.

The Baptist Musicales.

The musicale given last night by the pastors' Aid Society of the First Baptist church at the residence of Mr. J. R. Puryear, on North Eighth street, was well attended. An enjoyable program, which included several well chosen and faultlessly rendered vocal selections by Miss La Fayette La Heist, of Cloverport, one of Paducah's most charming and talented young visitors, was duly appreciated.

ALDEN ACQUITTED

Another Murder Case Settled at Last.

STABBED IN SELF DEFENSE.

The Case Against Fred Conneras

LITTLE DONE IN THE CIRCUIT COURT.

The jury in the case against Dock Olden, colored, charged with killing George Fitzpatrick, this afternoon at 2:40 o'clock returned a verdict of not guilty, and the prisoner was discharged from custody.

The killing occurred last December on "Dry River Front," near Eleventh and Husband streets. The two men had a quarrel over Fitzpatrick's striking one of Olden's children.

The evidence showed and the jury decided that the killing was done in self defense. Olden had been in jail for several months. Fitzpatrick's body was embalmed, and is still at Nauvoo.

Case against F. Conneras, charged with maliciously striking Will Olney at the I. C. shops, was continued until the 24 day of the next September.

A motion for a continuance was this afternoon filed in the case of the commonwealth against Ed. Owens and Shadrach Gills, charged with assaulting Whitty Howell.

The grand jury returned no indictments today.

REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

County Committee Decides to Have One On May 20.

The Pro-pects are Very Bright
For the Republican Party.

The Republican County Committee met last night at the S. N. office and unanimously decided to hold a county convention in Paducah for the nomination of candidates for county offices on May 20.

There was a good attendance, and reports from members in each precinct showed the Republican party to be in excellent trim everywhere. This was exceedingly gratifying, and conclusively demonstrated the absurdity of Democratic lies of the whole cloth that have lately been woven by Democratic alleged newspapers.

The convention will be held probably at the city hall, and while nothing as yet can be forecast, it is said that a majority is in favor of not allowing politics to interfere in the circuit judgeship race, where political prejudice should be entirely laid aside.

The outlook for the Republican party in McCracken county and the city of Paducah was never brighter, and the indications are that it will sweep everything before it in the forthcoming elections.

The Republicans are very enthusiastic, and all statements about internal dissension and no harmony are false from beginning to end.

HEAVY FROST

Unusual Chilliness For this Season of the Year.

Flowers and Fruit May be Damaged by It.

Early risers were surprised to find a heavy frost this morning. It looked like a light snow had fallen, and the atmosphere was exceedingly chilly.

Marketers report that there was probably much damage done to vegetables and plants taken from the greenhouses within the past few days. The fruit crop may have been damaged to some extent, but whether it has or not remains to be seen.

SCHOOL NOTES.

A Sudden Slump in Attendance
Thursday.

A Deputy Census Enumerator Appointed by Mr. Wickliffe.

The public schools are flourishing and the average attendance during the past week was 1800. There was quite a difference in the number present Wednesday and the attendance of Thursday, however. On Wednesday there were 1783, and on Thursday 501 pupils were absent.
This was an account of the heavy rains.

Supt. McBroom reports that there prevails a great deal of measles in the city. The interference of high water is just, but an epidemic of the above named malady has seriously interfered with the attendance for some time.

SATURDAY, APRIL 10, 1897.

The "News" has not yet named that Republican ticket.

The growth of the treasury reserve has not been rapid during the past few weeks but it has been a growth all the same and it has now passed the $152,000,000 mark and is still slowly climbing.

A law of the United States, passed by the last Congress, renders one who defaces a United States gold or silver coin subject to a penalty of $2000 fine and five years' imprisonment. Let the hanger man beware.

The Southern states, whose people are suffering so greatly from the inundation, will exhibit extremely bad taste if they do not promptly do what they asked Uncle Sam to do, make appropriations for the relief of the sufferers.

The Spanish soldiers in Cuba were last week paid for their services for the month of November, the last payment before that date being for the month of October. A number of mutinies are said to have taken place recently on account of the failure to receive pay.

WEYLER is "pacifying" Cuba, General Martin will be called upon just at the commencement of the rainy season to pacify Porto Rico and some other fellow is engaged in the same effort in the Philippine Islands. It is even probable Gen. Campos' service may be required to pacify Spain herself in a few days.

The Democratic press is authority for the statement that there is a great disgust in Democratic ranks over the late primary and that whether further primaries will be held for city and judicial offices is exceedingly problematical. It is equally problematical whether it will be worth while to hold further primaries in view of the strength that will be developed by the Republicans.

There are signs that the "concert" of the Powers is about to be broken. There have, it is said, been several propositions presented on which they have not been able to agree. Greece is confident their efforts will end in merely standing off and seeing her give Turkey a good trouncing. That's what they ought to do, but with such hogs as Russia, Germany and England it is not to be expected.

Those Democrats who are flatter themselves that the Chicago victory of Carter Harrison was due to the fact that he stood squarely on the Chicago platform show simply that they are blinded by their infatuation and that they are incapable of learning a lesson. Nothing will be more to the liking of the Republicans than for the Democracy to cling to this folly. Free trade and free silver will be easy enough to slay in 1898 and 1900.

PRESIDENT McKinley continues in his selections of foreign representatives of this government to indicate both his good intentions and his good judgment. Little fault can be found with his selections either in the character or ability of the men chosen. Even the Democratic press is compelled to admit, though reluctantly, that they are good. The New York "Sun" recently said: "Mr. McKinley's selections for the more important diplomatic posts strike people generally as satisfactory."

Ex-PRESIDENT CLEVELAND will, at a dinner in New York on the 24th instant, discuss "Present Problems." It is to be hoped Mr. Cleveland will throw some light on the Cuban question and the proposed annexation of Hawaii. These are the "present problems" with which he is familiar and in which the people are greatly interested. They would be glad to have the ex-President explain his treatment of the little island republic and tell why he did not support his representative in Cuba in upholding the dignity and honor of his country.

NEW YORK CITY—Greater New York—is about to hold a city election and Tammany and the silver Democracy are about to split on the platform. Tammany would like to ignore national issues, while the silver Democracy is determined they shall be recognized. That is all right. The more the silver question is discussed the broader will become the division in the party ranks. Not only so, but the more free coinage of silver on the lines of the Chicago platform is discussed the more surely will the people see its folly and be fortified against it for future elections.

The failure of the Globe Savings bank at Chicago recently bids fair to cost the university of Illinois half a million dollars. The president of the bank, C. W. Spaulding, was treasurer of the university. There was in his hands some $140,000 cash and several hundred thousand dollars worth of county and school bonds and other securities. These are missing and it is believed that they have been hypothecated. The sufficiency of Spaulding's bond is doubted and should it appear that the fears of the authorities are well grounded the loss may fall heavily on the university.

The "Register" claims the largest circulation of any paper in Western Kentucky, and keeps at the head of its columns a black face paragraph to that effect. Claims are cheap. The exaggeration of newspaper men when questions of circulation are under consideration is proverbial. If the "Register" really believed what it claims it would not hesitate to make its claims good by furnishing proof. The bare statement in the form made is not worth the space it occupies. The "Register" knows, as does the general public, what the circulation of the Sun is by the affidavit of three credible witnesses who are in position to know exactly what is doing in the Sun office. The Sun challenges the "Register" to make good its claims by producing the proof or take down its shingle. Put up or shut up, Mr. "Register."

The Dingley tariff bill is in the finance committee of the Senate where it is receiving careful consideration by some of the best informed men on the tariff that the country holds.

LOVE ENTERTAINMENT.

Microscope and Megaphone—Last Night at the Cubans at Havana, Matanzas and Pinar del Rio are waiting for Sanguily to arrive to join his forces, as they have great sympathy for him. Col. Lorent, commanding 600 Cubans near Guace, in Pinar del Rio, had an engagement with a large force of Spaniards one day last week, but met with a defeat, although his loss was not very heavy, he being able to retreat as soon as he found that the Spanish force opposed to him was much larger than his own. He had prepared a trap for him, but by good generalship he avoided it and retreated into the hills, with a loss of not over twenty-five men.

Col. Bermudez, with his band of 300 Cuban guerrillas, recently defeated a large detachment of Spanish troops at Loma del Toro. A Spanish detachment had orders to break up a large camp of pacificos and also raid the Cuban camp near there. Bermudez lay in wait for them and surprised them, killing over seventy-three of the Spanish force and capturing forty-eight wounded and others.

A railway train between Lacio and San Cristobal was dynamited Saturday of last week, and the engineer, fireman and eighteen soldiers were killed. The mine was sprung while the train was passing over a long and high culvert. The Cubans stationed themselves on the heights surrounding the scene and poured a hot fire on the troops. Then they charged, and after driving off the Spaniards, set fire to the wrecked cars. The Spanish loss over thirty-five men in the attack altogether. The Cubans secured ten prisoners also.

A riot occurred at Matanzas some time Saturday, and a Spanish captain named Lomelo was killed by his company. It is said that this riot arose over the division of the spoils that the Spanish troops had obtained in raiding some of the Cuban houses by that town.

WRITTEN AT RANDOM.

The first "tramp" doctor who ever came under the notice of local police officials arrived at the city hall late yesterday afternoon. He was ushered into the presence of Judge Sanders by a policeman, and did not seem at all embarrassed by this unusual adventure. What he was seized for no one seemed to know, and the tramp was too independent to ask. When the officers left with other prisoner doctor was left alone with Judge Sanders and two reporters. He readily admitted that he, too, was under arrest.

request for an analysis of the causes of Republican defeat from the New York "Journal." Mr. Harrison says: "I attribute the great success of our ticket to the fact that we made an honest, sincere and above board fight on the question of municipal reforms. We held the full percentage of last fall's Bryan vote, making the criminal allowance for the falling off from a national to a municipal campaign. In addition we received a large accession of McKinley Republican votes and more than split the gold Democratic vote in half. In spite of attempts to alienate the Populists and silver Republican voters they stood by us to a man. I feel that the issue that contributed most largely to our success is from the natural desire of Democrats to support the regularly nominated ticket, the disgust of the people with the abuse of the present administration of the civil service law, and a general desire for a greater degree of personal liberty. I use this expression in the commonly accepted German sense, calling attention to the fact that no race of people draws a sharper line of demarcation between liberty and license than the German. For the next two years Chicago will have a rigidly conservative, honest and economical business administration, and the city will be a law-abiding as any city of its size in the world.

INSURGENT SUCCESSES.

They Sack and Burn Two Important Towns.

A special to the "Globe-Democrat" from Key West, Fla., says: Advice from Havana state that Raul Arango, the insurgent leader, attacked the town of Madruga, Matanzas Province, ransacked the stores and supplied his forces. The Spaniards made no resistance, and begged him not to burn the town. The Cuban flag was placed over the government buildings and the Spaniards of the town shouted "Vive Cuba libre!" The Cubans left the place, after six hours, and without firing a shot. They were told that a large Spanish force was at Cayajabes, the sugar plantation of Mr. Terry. They left for that place, and two hours later one could see plainly the fire of the buildings and hear the continuous volleys and the detonation of the explosives.

A train from Havana to Union de Reyes was attacked, many wounded and two killed. The American correspondent, Cespedes, who was captured several months ago in an insurgent hospital, was released and taken to the steamer Segura that left for Mexico.

Mrs. Lamas arrived here last night. She is a woman about 57 years old, and has three daughters and three sons, the latter fighting for liberty in Cuba. She said:

"The Spaniards sent me to prison to see if my sons would surrender. The first thing I did was to send from my prison a note that said, 'Dear sons, don't fear; I am all right; keep your place and fight for liberty.'"

She said that they treated her mention. She was taken from the jail on the steamer in an arm chair, and Mr. Weyler is at the Juarez and Moron trocha, leaving Gen. Gomez at him or as Villas, toward Matanzas Province.

Cubans at Havana, Matanzas and Pinar del Rio are waiting for Sanguily to arrive to join his forces, as they have great sympathy for him. Col. Lorent, commanding 600 Cubans near Guace, in Pinar del Rio, had an engagement with a large force of Spaniards one day last week, but met with a defeat, although his loss was not very heavy, he being able to retreat as soon as he found that the Spanish force opposed to him was much larger than his own. He had prepared a trap for him, but by good generalship he avoided it and retreated into the hills, with a loss of not over twenty-five men.

Col. Bermudez, with his band of 300 Cuban guerrillas, recently defeated a large detachment of Spanish troops at Loma del Toro. A Spanish detachment had orders to break up a large camp of pacificos and also raid the Cuban camp near there. Bermudez lay in wait for them and surprised them, killing over seventy-three of the Spanish force and capturing forty-eight wounded and others.

A railway train between Lacio and San Cristobal was dynamited Saturday of last week, and the engineer, fireman and eighteen soldiers were killed. The mine was sprung while the train was passing over a long and high culvert. The Cubans stationed themselves on the heights surrounding the scene and poured a hot fire on the troops. Then they charged, and after driving off the Spaniards, set fire to the wrecked cars. The Spanish loss over thirty-five men in the attack altogether. The Cubans secured ten prisoners also.

A riot occurred at Matanzas some time Saturday, and a Spanish captain named Lomelo was killed by his company. It is said that this riot arose over the division of the spoils that the Spanish troops had obtained in raiding some of the Cuban houses by that town.

WRITTEN AT RANDOM.

The first "tramp" doctor who ever came under the notice of local police officials arrived at the city hall late yesterday afternoon. He was ushered into the presence of Judge Sanders by a policeman, and did not seem at all embarrassed by this unusual adventure. What he was seized for no one seemed to know, and the tramp was too independent to ask. When the officers left with other prisoner doctor was left alone with Judge Sanders and two reporters. He readily admitted that he, too, was under arrest.

Sanders' desk. He first withdrew a shining pair of tooth pullers, which he carefully placed on the table, and then followed a bundle of pension papers and four or five blank books—or more properly books that were filled with mysterious writing. Then the dexterous mountebank began pulling out bottles. There were blue vials, transparent vials and yellow vials, to say nothing of various other kinds of vials—vials filled with powders, liquids and gums, pellets, wafers and almost every other conceivable thing.

One by one he laid them out, until there was a most astonishing outlay of them.

He only smiled at the surprise of the increasing number of onlookers, and continued to remove bottles from his pocket, and painstakingly stack them on the table.

"No, there's no homeopathy about me," he replied to a casual observation dropped by one of the spectators. He then stood erect, as he finished his job, and looked as if he wanted to say, "Now what do you think of that?"

"Do you ever have headache?" he asked Judge Sanders.

"Yes, occasionally, but I haven't got it now," the Judge answered with evident misgiving, for he wasn't inquiring for any of that medicine.

"Well, I just want to make you a present of this," the nomadic medico resumed, as he proffered a small vial. "You put a small pinch of it in the ear on the side of the head that aches and it will cure it in a short time."

"Dynamite? No sir! That's strychnine," and he gently shook a small bottle of white powder.

"What's your name?" asked the Judge, as he cautiously thrust the bottle into the nearest desk drawer.

"Belden, sir—Robert K. Belden," he replied. "I live in Missouri—in Chicago." Some of the audience thought that was a strange place for Chicago—in Missouri—but said nothing.

"Well you may go, old man," finally announced Marshal Collins. "We've got more doctors here than we know what to do with now—except when it's election day," and he smiled to himself.

The old fellow, he looked like he was at least 60, began to store away his ubiquitous pharmacy in his various pockets, and as he looked around at the two reporters scratching down his name, hastily implored, "Now gentlemen, if you are reporters, please keep my name out of the paper, for I have not always been hard up, and don't expect to be any more after a little bit. I don't want my family to know about me."

When he left with his bottles and other things, he carried also the faithful promise of the reporters—and this is how it has been kept.

The handsome Dick Fowler will make an excursion to Cairo next Sunday, and she will no doubt take with her many sight seers. In addition to the big holes in the stone safeguard that surrounds the city, and the pipe water in which (according to the "News") the little boys fish, from the tops of the highest buildings, there is to be a game of baseball between the Cairo club, Paducah's bitterest rival, and the St. Louis Browns. Nobody need stay at home through fear of there being an inability to obtain dry ground enough on which to establish a diamond and play the game. Those Cairo fellows say they'll play ball if they have to play it on the wharfboat or Halliday House roof.

The Catholic Columbian Club is preparing to give "David Garrick" the latter part of the month. This will be the most elaborate and best production attempted by the talented young people composing the club, and their pains and preparations have rendered their proficiency most astonishing.

Fenger, the celebrated St. Louis costumer, is now making the wardrobe.

If the "out-of-town correspondents" of metropolitan newspapers foisted as many fakes on the public as a certain paper here that takes a keen delight in roasting them, there might be some ground for complaint some where. Whenever a local correspondent telegraphs matter away there is at least some foundation for it. The same cannot be said of many things that have been published by the above referred to paper in the past.

"Swipe" has been passed on by the Iowa supreme court. The word came up in the case of the state vs. Robert Lee, appellant, of Polk district. Somewhere some "swipe" is used in court and it became an issue. So the grave, dignified and august higher bench had to take official notice of it and incidentally to pass upon its meaning. In affirming the case the court decided that "swipe" means "to steal" and cited the dictionary as its authority.

The name of the postoffice at Powers has been changed to Maceo, in honor of the Cuban hero who was slain by Spanish treachery. The change was effected several days ago, but the postal clerks have failed to find it out, as all mail sent there thus far has been returned from Louisville marked "no such office in state named."

THE FRENCH IN AMERICA.

Most Noteworthy Is the Canadian Contribution.

The French element in the United States at the present time embraces various groups. The French of Louisiana include the dwellers in and around the picturesque old capital of New Orleans—exotic among American cities with its French survivals, its dream of past commercial dominion, and its vision of future power; and the simple and ignorant Acadian farmers, continuing the primitive customs of the basin of Grand Pre, along the tranquil waters of the Assche, remote from the corroding touch of busy modern life. The metis, or half breeds, also survivals of the old French days, are scattered in considerable numbers through the northwest, as packmen, boatmen, and lumbermen.

But the most noteworthy French element in the United States at the present time consists in the French Canadians who began about 20 years ago to cross the border into this country. This movement was due in part to the expansive power of this French people and in part to the effort of New England mill owners to bring them as operatives.

The result has been to introduce a new strain of French influence into this country. The United States census of 1890 reports 537,000 white persons having either one or both parents born in Canada and Newfoundland of French extraction. Leading French Canadians deny the influence of this report, and on the basis of church records held that it should be more than doubled.

The French Canadians are found in greatest numbers in the North Atlantic states and the North Central states. As a rule they are grouped in settlements of their own, aiming to preserve their race, language, customs and religion.—Frederick J. Turner, Ph. D., in Chautauquan.

Corean Paper.

A remarkable kind of paper is produced in Corea entirely by manual labor and without the use of any machinery. Its quality exceeds that of the very best made in China or Japan. The raw material used for this paper is obtained from the bark of Broussonetia papyrifera, which is collected in the spring and beaten in water containing a large admixture of wood ashes, until reduced to thick pulp; this is taken in large bundles and spread upon frames of bamboo and in this way formed into thin sheets. Another kind of paper is produced from old scraps trodden into pulp much in the same way that grape juice is expressed in some countries—a process of pulping which, though slow, has the advantage of not breaking the fiber so much as when machinery is used; then after the pulp has been made into paper, the sheets are piled up to a height of six feet and cut into pieces, to be again subjected to the foot-stamping—at the same time the roots and seeds of a plant called "tackpoin" are added, the soluble parts of which are supposed to give tenacity and toughness to the paper.—Apotheker Zeitung.

A Good Opportunity.

Teachers—Have you finished your composition on what little boys should not do in school?

"Yes'm."

"Read it."

"Little boys when at school should not make faces at the teacher, and should not study too hard, 'cause it makes them near-sighted, and should not sit too long in one position, 'cause it makes their backs crooked, and should not do long examples in arithmetic, 'cause it uses up their pencils too fast." —London Tit-Bits.

A Bad Case.

"You wouldn't believe it, but Grampy has a bad case of swelled head."

"There must be some mistake."

"Not a bit of it. Genuine old-fashioned mumps on both sides." —Detroit Free Press.

After Inauguration.

After the fatigue of reviewing the vast procession that followed him "home," and of leading the profound salute at the inauguration ball, the president is left alone in his glory, the first manifestation of which is a stack of boxes reaching halfway to the ceiling, filled with applications for office. Now he is president indeed. Those preliminary boxes, nearly every letter, by the thousand, and large willow trunks full of papers delivered with regularity from the departments, remind him that the United States expect every president to do his duty by the party which elected him. With a large experience of this sort of thing, extending over a longer series of years than ever before fell to the lot of an American executive, Mr. Cleveland began his second term with months of labor, broken each day in the small hours of the morning. By this effort the path of executive duty was merely opened, and the harassment of office-seekers slightly abated; but the gain to the president was, as a rule, a matter of minutes at meal time, and a half hour with his family after dinner, with a return to his desk between nine and ten in the forenoon, while the midnight oil continued.—Century.

TIE THIEF.

John Creach, of Livingston County, in Trouble.

ARRESTED HERE THIS MORNING.
Sold $48 Worth of Ties at Metropolis—They Belonged to G.
M. Wilson.

WAS TAKEN BACK TO SMITHLAND.
John Creach, a well known young man of Livingston county, was arrested this morning by Officer Wm.
Wheeler aboard the steamer Clyde, on a charge of grand larceny. He was taken before Judge Sanders at 9:30 o'clock and turned over to the complainant in the case, G. M. Wilson, who took the prisoner to Smith-land on the Hopkins.

Mr. Wilson arrived in the city last night from his home near Smithland.
For some time past Creach has been at work for him. He owns several farms in Livingston county, and is father of the young man nominated for county attorney at last Saturday's primary in Livingston.

Creach was placed in charge of a raft of ties yesterday belonging to Mr. Wilson and others to sell in Paducah. He took the raft to Metropolis and sold it for something over $48. He came in on the Fox last night, and Wilson was already here looking for him. Creach began to drink, but was at first not molested.
Wilson thinking that he would later encounter no difficulty in securing a settlement with him. But after he became intoxicated Wilson went before Judge Sanders about 5 o'clock this morning and swore out warrant charging him with grand larceny.

Officers Crow and Jones went to the New Richmond Hotel, where Creach was supposed to be, but the latter was not seen when they reached his room on the third floor.

Officer Wheeler afterwards found his stateroom on the Clyde, but it was locked. Creach refused to open the door, whereupon the officer began divesting himself of his clothing, intending to arm himself with his pistol and crawl over the transom.
When Creach found out that he would be arrested whether he opened the door or not, he let the officer in.

He consented to return to Smith-land with Mr. Wilson, and was placed in charge of the latter.

he will soon receive orders if not al-

We learn that Mr. Thos. Scoops has but few equals as a machinist and none as a politician in and around the shops. He still clings to the Henry George single tax idea.

We are glad to see our old friend
Joe Randall on the road in the capacity of a knight of the grip, representing the well known firm of W.
N. Robins Queensware Company,
of this city. Here's success to you,
Joe.

Mr. Mace Wilson, of the Wheeler

big fish fry at or near Hunsacker water tank Friday, but the rain spoiled the deal.

Conductor Hancock says while business is slack he will just run down to Memphis and pay his respects to his wife and little ones.
How nice such an excuse comes in just the very day the spring races at Memphis open.

Mrs. McFadden, who has been running an eating station at Rialto, has moved to Memphis where she will be found trying to appease the inward cravings of man as before.
She will be glad to see all of her old customers; just opposite the Che'se House on North Second street.

Conductor Anderson has been assigned to caboose 17,321, made vacant by the promotion of Conductor Craft to the preferred runs of 155

WASHINGTON HOME SOLD.
Ancient Seat of English Ancestors of the First President.
A few days ago there was brought to the hammer in Durham county, England, a building of more than a little interest to Americans because of its associations. It is old Washington hall, an early home of ancestors of the first president of the United States. For generations the place was the seat of the Washington family and it is one of the few existing properties mentioned in the Domesday Book, but for all that the hall and the ground adjoining it brought in the market only $2,025.
From a commercial point of view this is perhaps all that it is worth, for the building is fast falling to ruin, and of the property which once went with it only a small plot of ground is left, but the historical and sentimental interest which attaches to it gives it a value considerably above the price paid.

Washington hall dates from the early part of the seventeenth century and was built by William James, bishop of Durham. The structure is of stone, with millions of windows and boldly-projecting porches. At one end there is a large outstanding chimney. But the connection of the Washington family with the manor goes far back of the date of the erection of the hall. In the first half of the twelfth century William de Herburne held Washington, save the church and its lands, in exchange for Herburne, near Stockton-on-Tees. Either this William de Her-burne or one of his immediate successors assumed the local name, William de Westington is mentioned as a witness to charters of the bishop of Durham between 1260 and 1274. Washington living, when tracing the genealogy of the Washington family, proved clearly that George Washington was descended from these Washingtons of Durham.

Toward the close of the fourteenth century the direct male line expired, the daughter of the last of the name marrying Sir William Tempest, of Studley. The manor then passed successively into other families and was divided into several parts. From time to time portions of it were sold until there remained only the hall and the grounds. The local authorities, desiring to make a new cemetery, purchased the property, and, having no use for the old mansion, decided to sell that with as much of the land as was not needed. The present owner is Mr. Joseph Dickinson, a Washington tradesman.—Chicago Tribune.
